CAMPAIGN PLANS GIVEN ATTENTION

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS CONFER WITH GOVERNOR COX.

Chairman White Expected to Make Announcement Today—Notification Ceremonies in August.

Columbus, Ohio, July 21.—Completion of campaign plans today engaged Governor Cox, the Democratic presidential nominee; George White, the new national committee chairman, and other leaders remaining over from yesterday's consultation of Democrats. While hotel lobbies and other public places overflowed with Republicans, en route to Marion for their presidential notification ceremonies, the Democratic leaders worked all day in Governor Cox's office and hotel conference rooms.

Announcement of the special Democratic campaign committee was planned for tomorrow. Chairman White said its personnel had been fixed tentatively at 15, distributed over the country and with women represented. Delay in making selections was caused by necessary consultations with and approval from state Democratic organizations. Gov. Cox, who said he understood Mr. White would be ex-officio chairman of the special committee, conferred on its personnel with the chairman and E. H. Moore, the governor's late manager.

To Notify Candidates.
Notification dates for Governor Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt, the vice presidential nominee, were virtually settled for August 7 and 9, respectively, and it was announced that both candidates would start almost immediately thereafter on speaking tours, Governor Cox in the Central and Eastern states and Mr. Roosevelt in the West.

Location of campaign headquarters was also among organization details considered. Governor Cox said he had heard only New York, Chicago and San Francisco discussed for headquarters.

With preliminary organization affair in hand, Chairman White planned to spend tomorrow at Marietta, Ohio, his home, and the day after at Edgartown, Mass. Next Wednesday he planned to meet Homer S. Cummings, former chairman, at New York headquarters, spend the following day at Washington headquarters and return here.

Political surveys of several states were had today by Governor Cox with state leaders. He discussed the Maine situation in detail with Mrs. G. M. Pattangall, that state's national committeewoman.

"She called attention to the fact," said Governor Cox, "that Maine went Republican by only 5,000 in 1918, when there was a strong Republican trend."

The Massachusetts field was discussed by the governor with Edward W. Guinn, the Bay state's national committeeman who was said to have reported condition good.

Looking at Kentucky.
To inquire into the Kentucky situation, Governor Cox today telegraphed Senator Beckham of Kentucky, to come here soon for consultation.

Women's activities in the campaign were gone over by the governor with Mrs. George Bass, chairman of the Women's Bureau of the national committee. She told of plans to put 100 Democratic women speakers in the field and Governor Cox said the national committee would cooperate in "an aggressive campaign" for the feminine ballot. Mrs. Bass was slated for a place on the national campaign committee.

In presenting his demand for full publicity of campaign expenditures and contributions, through continuance of the senatorial investigation, Governor Cox has asked Senator Pomeroy of Ohio, a member of the senate inquiry, to come here on the senator's return from the West. When Governor Cox's attention was called to a statement today by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, to the effect that Republicans would meet the governor's demands for campaign expenditures publicity, Governor Cox observed:

"I rather think neither the senator nor I will have much to do with it. The people of the United States will provide the specifications."

Next week Governor Cox stated today, work on his speech will be begun. He plans to leave here late this week for a week-end at home in Dayton and then here to prepare his address in seclusion from visitors as far as possible. The governor said his address would require "at least a part of a newspaper page." He plans to have it printed at his newspaper office in Dayton and said he would have to do a rush job to insure time distribution to the nation's press.

Stoudemayer-Sheely.
Miss Hattie H. Stoudemayer of Peak and Mr. J. E. Sheely of Little Mountain were married on last Saturday by Rev. R. M. Carpenter at the Lutheran parsonage near Chapin.

BRYAN PROTEST NOT EFFECTIVE

NOMINATED BY PROHIBITIONISTS AT LINCOLN.

Convention Stamped in Spite of Telegram From Commoner Definitely Declining Honor.

Lincoln, Neb., July 21.—W. J. Bryan was nominated by acclamation as the prohibition party's presidential nominee at the national convention today. The nomination came after a resolution "tendering" him the position of standard bearer had brought out the fact in debate that he had telegraphed friends here that he "could not accept."

In naming Mr. Bryan the convention upset precedent as well as its program by selecting the candidate on the first day. Nominations were not scheduled until Friday.

The nomination came after a stampede of the delegates, which was started by the resolution of W. G. Calderwood of Minnesota tendering Mr. Bryan the nomination and asking him to reply promptly whether he would accept.

Charles W. Bryan sent a letter to the convention after it reconvened urging that it reject the resolution and saying that Mr. Bryan's friends would oppose his acceptance.

After considerable debate C. N. Howard, a New York delegate, read the following telegram from W. J. Bryan:

"Prohibition Convention, Lincoln, Neb.

"I appreciate your confidence in me. Please see my brother, C. W. Bryan. He will fully explain why acceptance is impossible."

The telegram was in reply to one Mr. Howard sent to Mr. Bryan yesterday asking if he would accept the nomination.

Speakers then charged that secret conferences between delegates and Charlie Bryan had been held in the last 24 hours with the apparent object of preventing Mr. Bryan's nomination on the ground that he did not want to be named.

The fact that these conferences had not been made public seemed to anger many delegates and speech after speech favoring the Calderwood resolution followed until it was adopted with only six dissenting votes out of the more than 200 delegates present.

This apparently was only the spark of the fire, however, for delegates clamored for the floor, each urging that Bryan actually be nominated.

Mrs. Marie Brehm of California, first woman chairman of a national convention, relinquished the chair and placed Mr. Bryan in nomination. The delegates immediately went into the usual post-nomination uproar with a parade and shouting and whooping. After 15 minutes, they finally realized that they had not yet actually nominated Mr. Bryan and proceeded to make him their nominee by acclamation. Tired and worn from the hot all day session and the previous demonstration they gave only a few seconds' applause when the nomination actually was made.

The nomination was seconded by Nebraska, Florida, Missouri, Illinois, California, Wisconsin and Ohio.

During the parade, Mr. Howard remained aloof until some one shoved him in line and later he walked out of the auditorium.

EDUCATIONAL RALLY BY LONG LANE SCHOOL PATRONS

The Long Lane school patrons have the school spirit. They need and expect to have two teachers for the school the coming year. In fact have already elected the teachers, and they are going to pay the salaries along with other schools. They have not the enrollment or the children to get the state equalizing fund even if they vote an eight mill tax and so they are going to raise the money among themselves.

There is to be a barbecue on Wednesday, July 11, at Mr. John Baker's and the meats are to be cooked by Jack Counts and then it is to be served in that good style that these people know so well how to do, and the big spreading oaks are still there, and there is plenty of good water and the barbecue is for the benefit of the school, and there will be some friends there to make talks on education, no politics, politics is to be tabooed that day, though all the candidates are invited to come and have a good barbecue dinner and help a good cause and encourage these people in their efforts for their school.

Remember the day and mark it down in your calendar, Wednesday, August 11.

Suber, who enlisted in the navy some time ago. James' ship is in port now at Constantinople.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deaver and Miss Lizzie Deaver were the guests of Mrs. J. B. Pitts Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. William Coleman and children are spending awhile with Dr. R. R. Jeter and family.

HARDING TAKES SUFFRAGE STAND

READY TO USE INFLUENCE FOR RATIFICATION.

Telegram Sent to Head of National Woman's Association in Nashville, Tenn.

Marion, Ohio, July 21.—Senator Harding enlisted in the fight for the woman suffrage amendment tonight, declaring on the eve of his formal acceptance of the Republican nomination for president that he was ready to throw the weight of his influence for ratification in time for all women to vote in November.

The announcement followed a call by representatives of the National American Woman Suffrage association, and took the form of a telegram to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, head of the association, at Nashville, Tenn.

"I am exceedingly glad to learn," the telegram said, "that you are in Tennessee seeking to consummate the ratification of the equal suffrage amendment. If any of the Republican members of the Tennessee assembly should ask my opinion as to their course, I would cordially recommend an immediate favorable action."

In presenting their plea and securing results tonight the association's representatives stole a march on a delegation of the National Women's party, who had planned to enliven the formal notification ceremonies tomorrow by demanding that the nominee urge Republican legislators in Tennessee to vote for ratification. What action the Women's party delegation would take was uncertain tonight, but their engagement to see Senator Harding tomorrow stood.

The conference between Senator Harding and the party of women occupied only a few minutes and followed a day given over largely to last minute preparations for the ratification ceremonies, at which the nominee will mark out the skirmish lines of his campaign in an acceptance speech, interpreting the party platform and declaring his personal stand on national issues.

His position on the league of nations, colored with particular interest by recent developments, was discussed by the candidate at a two hour conference with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who will deliver the notification speech, and who as chairman of the foreign relations committee led the senate fight against unreserved ratification of the treaty.

By his close associates the candidate is expected to lay down a policy tomorrow contributing to the paramountcy of the league issue in the campaign and helping to clear the air for a finish fight between the two big parties.

The acceptance speech will be delivered late in the afternoon, near the end of a program which begins at 7 o'clock in the morning.

More than 30 special trains are expected during the day and many thousands will motor in from nearby cities and towns. Republicans and Democrats in Marion have joined hand to provide entertainment and the city is decked out for the occasion as never before in its history.

A Youthful Candidate.
Waterbury, American.

If elected Franklin D. Roosevelt will be only 38 when he becomes vice president. But he will not in that case be the youngest vice president for Breckenridge, elected with James Buchanan, took office at the age of 36. And yet, we think we are in the days of young men.

Mrs. Cox a Clever Woman.
Waterbury, American.

An interviewer asked Mrs. Cox if she was a suffragist. She said "No." "An anti, then?" "No." "What are you, then?" "I am the governor's wife." She gets credit for being a very clever woman. But how contemptible she must appear to those earnest propagandists who think that a woman should have a positive opinion of her own regardless of her husband on this subject, and, of course, one opinion only.

PUBLISHERS HEAR OPTIMISTIC NOTE

NEW PRESIDENT THINKS PRICES MUST DECLINE.

Texas Man Says High Peak Will Not Go Longer Than Next Year.

Asheville, N. C., July 21.—The first note of optimism sounded during the 18th annual session of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association, which closed here this afternoon, came from M. E. Foster of the Houston Chronicle, who, in accepting the election as the news president, told the delegates that the high peak of prices would not go longer than during the year 1921. He said that all the talks and addresses delivered at the association session were propaganda tending to boost the price of news print, but that he had given the matter some attention and did not believe that the manufacturers would be able to maintain the high prices longer than one more year.

The labor troubles of the publishers and the union employees, when it is found that they can not be adjusted by conciliation, be adjusted by arbitration, the publishers decided in adopting a resolution introduced by Major Stahlman of the Nashville Banner, who has been one of the strongest workers of the convention for a definite solution of the labor problems. He also brought in a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, pledging the publishers to hold their use of news print for 1920 for period between May 1 and December 31, to the same amount or less than was used during the same time last year.

J. C. Wilnuth of El Paso told of the paper mills now being operated in Mexico and suggested that country as a possible source of supply for new wood pulp along with Alaska, although the convention did not take to the suggestion as it did to Alaska, a committee having been appointed to investigate the possibilities of the latter country.

President Henry D. Smith of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, addressed the publishers briefly, urging a closer cooperation between the newspaper men and the ad men. William J. Pape of Waterbury, Conn., arrived too late for the regular business of the convention, but during the afternoon addressed a small group of publishers on "The Publishers' Buy Corporation, Its Plans and Purposes."

Major Stahlman, in addressing the convention, stated that the most serious period in the history of the association is facing the publishers who are unable to make contracts for news print and whose supplies are short. He cited his own paper for example of what he said should be done to conserve paper.

Jason Rogers, publisher of the New York Globe, failed to arrive to take part in the discussions, although he had been given a place on the program. Following the conclusion of the publishers' meeting this afternoon, the Southern Council of the Associated Press held its annual meeting with H. C. Adler of the Chattanooga Times, chairman, presiding. Supt. L. C. Probert of the Southern division at Washington attended the meeting, which was declared to have been one of the best the council has ever held.

The Local Legion.
The Legion's July dance which will be given next Tuesday night, the 27th, in the Legion's hall will be one of the nicest dances of the season and the indications are that it will be largely attended, both by visitors and by the folk of this community.

The entertainment committee announces that they have signed the Garber-Davis orchestra for this dance and when they furnish the music there is nothing lacking to make the evening a pleasant one, both for the dancers and for those who attend as onlookers.

The Legion's hall is in fine condition now for dancing and before each dance the boys have it worked on and put in even better condition. Lots of visitors say that this post has the nicest hall of any in the state and one of the best floors to be found.

After Auto Law Violators.
Mr. A. C. Coward, the state highway commission's field inspector, was in Newberry on Tuesday looking for violators of the automobile laws. Mr. Coward dropped in at The Herald and News office for a moment or two and said he had done some work in seeing after the licenses here. He is making a campaign against dealers who allow their licenses to be used on private cars, and auto owners who have not purchased the regulation metal tag from the state commission. This was his first visit to Newberry. He is touring the entire state in the interest of seeing that the laws are observed. Any person failing to comply with the rules and regulations will be brought into court and given a hearing.
